HOST BROADCASTER

Paris, France, a city rich in history, plays host to the third annual World Congress of History Producers at the Hôtel Lutetia December 7 - 10, 2003. An initiative of the Banff Television Foundation, HISTORY 2003 is supported by top international players in the production and broadcasting of history television and this year's host broadcasters, France 5 and le Groupe France Télévisions. This three-day forum features plenary sessions, workshops, lunches with commissioning editors, screenings and networking opportunities for those who are in the business of making history and biography programs. Stakeholders in this genre have identified a need for an event committed to the key issues, best practices, and craft in this very particular area of television programming.

The Advisory Council and Steering Committee for the History Congress are international in scope and represent many of the preeminent producers and broadcasters of this program genre. Member are listed at www.banffmedia.com/history.
